GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Cheap Coal.

NEW YORK, May 14.—It is reported that stove coal is offered in this harbor by the Reading Co. at $3 per ton for stove coal, which makes the average for all sizes $2 85. The best companies would lose 25 cents per ton at this price.

Vanderbilt and Railroads.

The Post says Wm. H. Vanderbilt has agreed to receive proxies for use at the next election of the Michigan Railroad Co. He also has bought the trunk line, have agreed to pool the earnings on the west bound freight from New York on the following basis: The N. Y. Central and Erie each to have 33⅓ per cent. of total receipts, the Pacific Railroad Co. 24 per cent. and the Baltimore and Ohio a little over 9 per cent.

Lost at Sea.

The American brig C. C. Bearce, from Charleston for Boston, was lost at sea. Herrick, mate; More, second mate; Henry Gatlin and Thos. McCullom, seaman and steward were rescued from a raft. Two seamen had been washed off. Nothing is learned of Capt. Blackwell and another seaman who made up the Bearce's crew.

A Fiendish Burglar.

NEW YORK, May 15.—An unknown burglar being attacked by Mr. Junior, while the former was depredating on his premises last night in Williamsburg, shot the latter with an air gun, ringing in the room. He then fatally beat Mr. Junior, took what valuables could be found and escaped.

A Great Contest Ended.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The suits of Rufus Hatch vs. Jay Gould, Sidney Dillon and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company were discontinued by consent of plaintiff. The lien the supreme court was to decide involved a $2,000,000 mortgage on the company's property, and that in the superior court, to compel the defendants to account for alleged malfeasance in office while directors of the company.

Grant's Reception.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Gen. Grant held a reception in Independence hall to-day. From the moment the first person entered there was a steady stream of people passing at the rate of 2,500 an hour.

Convicted of Murder.

ELLSWORTH, Me., May 14.—Edward M. Smith has been convicted of the murder of the Tilm family at Bucksport.

Forest Fires.

MOORE'S JUNCTION, N. Y., May 15.—Forest fires have been raging through the forests along the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain railroad between Clinton Mills and Altoona Springs. West wind drove the fire through the woods and across narrow clearings to the towns of Clinton Mills, Ellenburgh and Forest. Up to 5 P. M. about 20 buildings have been burned at Clinton Mills, and the large mills there were on fire. The railroad agent is moving everything as there is no hope of saving the buildings. At Ellenburgh, Forest and Moore's Fork, the depot and other buildings have been on fire several times, but the people hope to save them.

MORAIS JUNCTION, May 14.—Since midnight last night the great fire has spread so rapidly among the forests and through brush lands that this and the entire country for hundreds of miles is enveloped in dense smoke. Clinton Mills is completely destroyed. Fifty-five families burned out.

The Forest Fires General.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Dispatches received from a multitude of places in the Northwestern States and Canada announce the prevalence of forest fires. An immense amount of destruction has been caused, and in some cases loss of life.

Fire.

ROCHESTER, May 15.—The Rochester Paper Co.'s factories at Lower Falls was burned to-night; loss, $100,000; insurance, $80,000.

A Horrible Crime.

CHICAGO, May 15.—At Streator, Ill., coal miners struck, and were replaced by others. To-day the rankling hate found expression by some of the old miners poisoning food in the dinner buckets of the new ones, and to-night some 60 of these unfortunates are in the direst of agony, and many of them will undoubtedly die from the effects of the poison. The lives of all hang upon a thread. Arsenic was the drug used, but in some cases was so skillfully administered as to counteract its own action.

STREATOR, Ill., May 15.—The miners of the Chicago, Wilmington and Vermillion Coal Co. poisoned yesterday, supposed by envious brother workmen, have generally recovered. To-day some half a dozen out of the 60 are in dangerous condition, and their recovery is doubtful.

Mining Stocks.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Trustworthy dealers here in California stocks state that they are selling the better class in large quantities for wealthy Eastern investors, who are attracted by present prices.

The Rockford Horror.

ROCKFORD, Ill., May 15.—Before the coroner's jury Architect Gay refuses to place the responsibility, but Gay's brother architects in turn exonerate him and place the responsibility on Superintendent Latham. They consider the brick used was inferior in quality, and not what specifications called for.

Notable Visitors at New York.

NEW YORK, May 14.—President Hayes arrived this afternoon from Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Hayes, Webb Hayes, Miss Kate Mason Foote, Secretaries Evarts, Schurz and Gibbon, Attorney-General Devens and General Sherman. The distinguished company were met by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

A Big Spread.

The Chamber of Commerce gave its hundredth and ninth annual banquet this evening. Samuel D. Babcock, Chairman of the Chamber, presiding. On his right sat President Hayes, Secretaries Evarts and Schurz and Ex-Gov. Hoffman. To the left, Gen. Sherman, Mayor Ely, Gen. Hancock. Covers were laid for nearly 300 and the company included representative men of the city. After the cloth was removed speeches began. Gen. Babcock in his said, at no previous period in the history of the last 30 years had business been more depressed and unsatisfactory than at the present time. While the civil war resulted in releasing from bondage four millions of human beings, it inflicted upon us a system of financial measures which has put under bonds forty million people. With the unsound and extravagant management of public affairs and private interests which our indebtedness has caused, is it strange our commerce and great industrial interests are crippled and languishing. If we fully realize these events we cannot fail to see that no permanent relief can be found, until such as remain of the conscious and wild speculations of the past are reached their inevitable conclusion, and until upon the safe and sound foundation of regality and thrift, our national elements are recuperated, and growth may expand into a healthy progress. Mr. Babcock then said the regular toast was one they never had had the pleasure of having responded to by an incumbent of the office, and he took great pleasure in giving them the toast of the President of the United States. [Loud cheers.]

President Hayes rose after the hearty hurrahs were over and repeated waving of handkerchiefs and bursts of music from the orchestra had subsided, and said: Mr. President—It is a gratification to have this opportunity to meet such an assemblage of business men of the city of New York. I wish to make my acknowledgments to them for their invitation to enjoy with them their annual social meeting. I wish to assure them that this hearty greeting is very welcome to me. At peace with all nations of the world, with honest purpose on the part of our people and the heart of the government [loud cheers] to strive for the restoration of the ancient concord within our own limits, [hurrahs and great applause,] I believe that notwithstanding the unfortunate array of figures which has been disentombed, that we may confidently look for early and decided and encouraging evidences of the revival of business prosperity throughout the country. The President then sat down, and the assemblage rose and cheered with hearty enthusiasm.

South Carolina Judgeship.

COLUMBIA, May 14.—The Senate and House met to-day to ballot for Chief Justiceship of the State. Associate Justice A. J. Willard was elected on the first ballot.

The South Carolina Trials.

CHARLESTON, May 15.—The Ellerbe cases came up before the U. S. circuit court to-day, Judges Waite and Bond on the bench. The defense challenged the array of the grand jury, on the ground that it had been packed for political purposes. Pending argument the court adjourned.

Local Option Veto.

BOSTON, May 14.—Gov. Rice has vetoed the local option bill principally on the ground that the existing license law have been in operation only a year.

A Newspaper Critcism.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Times mercifully attacks the carnival to-day as a festival of fools, and says the position of Lex was given to a stupid Staten Island lager beer brewer, after another brewer of the same had offered $2,300 for the position.

The Mississippi Slaughter.

MERIDAN, Miss., May 15.—Camelia Chisholm, wounded in the Kemper affray, died of gangrene of the arm, resulting from lack of prompt surgical attention.

The Times' Washington special says: Immediately after the cowardly and murderous attack by white Democrats upon Judge Chisholm and his family while they were confined in jail at DeKalb county, Mississippi, a lady of Washington wrote a letter of condolence to Miss Chisholm, the brave girl who was severely wounded while heroically assisting to defend her father. Miss Chisholm penned the following reply to be made to this letter, which was received here to-day. It will be observed that in addition to the gunshot wounds received by Chisholm, she was struck in the face by one of the cowardly ruffians who murdered her father and brother. Judge Chisholm died since the following letter was written:

DE KALB, Miss., May 12.

MADAM—At the request of Miss Chisholm, whose wounds render it impossible for her to write, I serve as her amanuensis. She takes great pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of your kind letters which have come to hand since the De Kalb horror took place, and let me assure you that your kindness is appreciated. I have had the pleasure of opening your letters and reading them to her, and from your writing, judge that you do not know that the brave girl devoted little exercise was shot, beaten and mangled with her father. Her right arm was shot through and through while endeavoring to shield her father; the whole charge of buckshot which first struck the flat of the arm of the cell, struck her full in the face, filling it with chips of lead and burnt powder. She was struck in the face by some brutal hand, which was blackened and disfigured in a fearful manner; was also shot in the leg below the knee, and is now lying prostrate and helpless as an infant, and nothing but the tenderest care and best surgical aid can save her. Her father is still alive but suffering intensely, yet we have some hope of his final recovery. The house is being guarded by a few faithful friends and relatives, but we do not know at what hour the savage barbarians may renew the attack. You can do us all no good, no more good at present than to lay the enormity of the massacre before the people of Washington, and especially the President.

To the above was added the following postscript in the handwriting of Mrs. Chisholm:

Our son, the heroic little Johnnie, was shot to death because he persisted in getting before his father for his defense.

The World says editorially, the wound which Cornelia Chisholm received was neglected, and she died yesterday of gangrene. The courage and devotion to her father which she exhibited, won the admiration of the whole country, and her death adds a darker shade to one of the blackest tragedies of Southern life.

Beef Shipments.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—In April 8,416,829 pounds of fresh beef, valued at $82 ,81, were exported from the United States.

MEXICO.

Pronouncing for Lerdo.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—The Galveston News' special from Eagle Pass, says Gen. La Valenz with 600 soldiers in the district of Rio Grande, State of Cohahuila, Mexico, pronounced for the Lerdo government on Sunday morning, and is now in possession of the whole district, except the town of Piedras Negras, and will attack that town in a few days. Public buildings there are heavily barricaded.

The Sonora Expedition.

In an editorial on the alleged immanent invasion of Mexico, the Herald says: It is reported the invasion is to take the shape of a formidable emigration movement. The completion of the Southern Pacific railroad of California, to Fort Yuma or Fort Mohave would enable a considerable number of restless spirits of the Western coast to be moved down to the Arizona country at a small expense and in brief time. Thence it is supposed the Mexican province of Sonora would be invaded and the body of emigrants marching at the same time from Texas into Chihuahua and Cohahuila. Mexico certainly needs emigrants, and we are not certain but the class she would get in by such an enterprise as this would be best for her purpose.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Great Fire.

ST. STEPHENS, May 15.—Losses by fire last night nearly half a million dollars. About 63 tenements, 11 wharves and 2 schooners were burned. Among the heavies losers are the New Brunswick & Canada Railroad depot, Machine shops, wharves and a number of engines and cars were destroyed. The Watson house and a number of valuable buildings and ships, belonging to S. E. Shipman, were burned. Wm. Johnson is reported killed and five others wounded by falling walls.

CANADA.

Bush Fires.

OTTAWA, May 15.—Bush fires have broken out simultaneously in Carlton, Granville, Prescott, Renfrew and Lanark counties. Much property is being destroyed.

MONTREAL, May 15.—Heavy fires are reported in the vicinity of West Farnham, and a number of houses are burned.

PLACER DISCOVERIES.

BAKER CITY, May 7, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

About two weeks ago a man by the name of Short, sunk a shaft (on a point of a hill near Pocahontas, in the vicinity of Mill Creek, about five miles west of this city) about 25 feet in depth, and found an old lake deposit of rotten boulders and gravel rich in gold, paying from 5 to 50 cents to the pan, some say more. The man, Short, did not reach the bedrock, and is now drifting. Some 30 or 40 claims have been located, and the presumption is that our palmy placer mining days will come again. There is plenty of ground left to be taken, and your correspondent will go over next week and see for himself, and report fully and truthfully. We had this week a fine rain, which was much needed to start the grass and young grain. The failure of the Virtue Mining Co., much affects our local finances. This is the third remarkable failure of this good mine, all occasioned by the owners speculating with the natural yield of the mine in outside matters. Our politicians are already feeling about for the next State and county offices. CASCADE.

Messrs. Hall Bros., ship builders, have just laid the keel for a new three-masted schooner, at Port Ludlow. Her dimensions will be: keel 136 feet, beam 34½ feet, depth of hold 13 feet, and will have a capacity of about 400 tons—carrying about 575,000 feet of lumber. She will be ready to launch early this fall. This is said to be the only considerable vessel now building at Puget Sound.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

Roumania Declares War against Turkey.

Roumanian Chamber.

BUCHAREST, May 14.—The Chamber of Deputies have adopted a bill to cover the expense of mobilization by requisitions. Also a bill regulating the portion of officers in active service. The Chamber votes $50,000 to defray half the expenses of officers, campaigning and equipments.

Roumania Declares War.

PARIS, May 14.—A despatch from Pesth says, the Roumanian government has declared war against Turkey.

Carrying the War into India.

VIENNA, May 15.—Political Correspondence has semi-official letters from St. Petersburg containing communications of this nature: It says Russian troops under command of Kaufman, will cross the Pamier into India in the event of England taking part in the Turkish war. This is the first time the Russians have spoken semi-officially of the possibility of military operations by way of Pamier and the accessibility of India in that quarter.

Orders to Burn.

There are rumors at Tultcha that in the event of that place having to be abandoned, orders will be given that it should be destroyed by the retreating garrison. The consuls of Austria, Greece and other States, applied to the Governor, who acknowledged such were his orders; but before things came to such extremities he would give the consuls and all aliens timely warning to provide for the safety of their persons, and as much property as they could remove. Such orders, the Governor added, had been sent to all persons commanding in Bulgaria.

Advances by the Armies.

Three columns of Russian soldiers are marching towards Giurgevo, Simnetza and Maguilla, with probable design of crossing the Danube at those points. One object is to break the Turkish line and separate the corps at Widdin from the main army. The Turks appear to be contemplating crossing to Kalafat; they have at that point two monitors, one No. 1 steamer and eight sailing barks.

The Montenegrin Messenger.

Col. Cartagui, special messenger from Prince Milan to St. Petersburg, returned without reply last night. Prince Gortschakoff telegraphed that if Servia desires to commence action, she must do so on her own responsibility and with her own means. This intelligence caused great depression among the liberals.

Turks and Italians.

Italian transports with 200 guns took sounding off Durrazzo. A Turkish steamer threatened the Italian captain, who thereupon loaded his guns, but the Turkish authorities interfered and averted an engagement. The Italian captain said 10 Italian war vessels would shortly appear off the coast of Albania.

The British Preparations.

The British admiralty are preparing for contingencies. The departments of controller and director of stores are actively employed, and a special committee meet daily for conventional business.

Russia's Objective Point.

BRUSSELS, May 15.—Le Nord, Russian organ, publishes a letter from St. Petersburg containing the following: Russia has but one aim, namely, the amelioration of the lot of the Christians, but if at the end of the war she claims more extended guaranties Europe must blame herself, not ambitious designs, whereof it gratuitously suspects Russia. Russia, after the war, will give fresh proof of her moderation by consulting Europe respecting the conditions to be dictated to Turkey to prevent further massacres.

Bosnian Rebels.

RAGUSA, May 15.—The rebel commander in Bosnia, Despatovich, has been reinforced, and is marching towards Drina. The garrison of Drian is preventing Herzegovinian refuges from entering Austria.

Gunboat Captured.

LONDON, May 15.—A Turkish gunboat which passed Kalafat under cover of the Turkish fire from Widdin, was captured by the Roumanian battery lower down the river. She was en route to Rutschuck for armament.

Russians Cross the Danube.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 15.—News is received that a Russian corps crossed the Danube near Polback and entered Donboudsha. An engagement is proceeding.

Greeks and Turks.

ATHENS, May 15.—The first collision between the Greek insurgents and Turkish troops occurred near Armiros, Thessaly. The press of Athens unanimously demand war.

Russian Movements.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 15.—The Russians are massing a large force in the neighborhood of Kars. Cannonading is proceeding at various points on the Danube.

An English Sympathizer.

LONDON, May 15.—The Standard's Constantinople special says: I am glad to report a great success of the Turks in Asia. On Monday Admiral Hassan Pasha, after bombarding the fortifications of Sukum Kalseh, landed a number of soldiers, who were immediately joined by 3,000 natives. A violent combat ensued. The Russians were driven out of Sukum Kalseh. To-day upwards of 6,000 natives joined the Turkish forces, who hold the fortifications. The town is in flames. All the surrounding country is rising in support of the Turks. Telegraphic communication between Constantinople and Kars, by way of Erzeroum, remains intact.

A Russian Fiasco.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 16.—A Russian war steamer recently escaped Sebastapol and reached the vicinity of Batoum. On Sunday night when seven miles from shore, she sent four boats with torpedos to attack a Turkish frigate in the roadstead. The torpedoes failed to explode; fire was opened from the frigate and shore. In the darkness and confusion the Russian boats fled in different directions. Two succeeded in reaching Poti unharmed. At daybreak no news had been received of the other two boats or the Steamer.

Turks for Dobranschi.

The Turks have dispatched 16,000 men from Widdin garrison in all haste to Dobranschi.

The Loss at Kalafat.

Roumanian official reports estimate 400 wounded during the recent intermittent Turkish bombardment of Kalafat, but don't mention the number of killed.

Turkish Outrages in Servia.

LONDON, May 16.—Private letters from Bosnia say that the Turkish troops, withdrawn from the Servian frontier, have reappeared on the Drina at Belina. The Ryayahs are suffering from the merciless requisitions of the Turkish authorities, who seize corn, cattle and horses. Outrages are reported in Bosnia.

Roumania must Rely on Herself.

The Times' Vienna telegram says: Before taking the resolution about the declaration of independence, it seems the Roumanian government applied to the German foreign office. In reply Von Bulow is reported to have said if Roumanians make a de facto alteration in their political position, they must do so at their own peril.

Russia's Finances.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 15. The Gazette says the Russian National Bank will shortly begin to sell scrip of a new national loan. There will be no public subscription.

Sixteen Villages Pillaged.

According to the news from Constantinople, sixteen Bulgarian villages have been pillaged and burned by Turkish soldiers.

The Turks at Widdin.

The Times Bucharest special says an Englishman, accidentally in Widdin at the time of the first bombardment, reports that the Turkish troops in Widdin and vicinity number about 50,000. They expect an increase of 25,000 from Servia. The troops were in good condition. An impression in Widdin appeared to be general that no quarter would be shown to any Roumanians crossing the Danube into Bulgaria.

Large masses of Russian infantry encamped between Bucharest and the Danube, but their objective point on the river is not known to the public.

General War Notes.

LONDON, May 14.—The Porte has given the most satisfactory assurances relative to the destruction of British shipping at Beket and promises full compensation for the whole.

The Russian headquarters and staff will be on the Danube within a week.

Owing to the fall of water in the Danube the remaining monitors behind the island opposite Ibrail in the old bed of the river can not get out and must be abandoned or destroyed.

A dispatch from Bagdad describes the flood which has overwhelmed both banks of the Tigris. Such a flood was hitherto unknown. The river threw out a new branch completely blockading Bagdad and swept away 200 houses in Keamize.

The worst evil which Russians may bring by their premature invasion is cholera.

The municipality of Kischeff have decided to raise an obelisk in memory of the Czar's stay there, and to found an asylum for invalid soldiers.

The only survivor of the crew of the Turkish monitor sunk, estimates that she had a crew of 200. The ship was named the Lutfield, armed with five guns, two 9-inch and two 6-inch.

The Times says the war in Asia Minor will not be the kind of parade for Russia, anticipated by English alarmists. Russians will run a great risk of disappointment if they endeavor to repeat the triumphs of 1828-29.

The Russian demonstration in Hyde park, yesterday, was a failure.

LONDON, May 15.—Yesterday a steam tug from Ibrail took over some fighters and two hundred laborers and removed several hundred tons of coal unopposed, which the Turks had accumulated at Matschet for the use of the flotilla.

The Russian front will be covered by 10 regiments of Cossacks.

Inundations have increased in Birma valley. Six thousand troops are marching down.

The Turkish squadron bombarded a village near Sookgooni Kale, and it is reported six Turkish ironclads appeared before Sookgooni Kale.

On the 14th, Miridites from Derven, and Turks from Oroschi, had a sanguinary fight, wherein the entire Turkish battalion was destroyed. It is reported the Miridite chief will bring down a strong corps to co operate with Montenegrins.

Servian volunteers are constantly passing the frontier to join Bosnian insurgents.

Circassians who have risen in Russian trans-Caucasian provinces, destroyed almost all the telegraph wires in their neighborhood.

England's Attitude on the Eastern Question.

LONDON, May 15.—Gladstone's resolutions were rejected by 354 to 223, and the amendment offered by Sir Henry Wolff, conservative, to the effect that the House declines to entertain any resolution which may embarrass the government in its maintenance of peace and protection of British interests, without indicating any alternative line of policy, was adopted without discussion.

In the course of the debate the Marquis of Hartington said the Blue Book shows Russia's sincere desire to maintain peace, if possible. He condemned Earl Derby's answer to Prince Gortschakoff, sooner or later we would have to interfere in the present struggle. When the time came, Gladstone's first two resolutions would form the guide to the policy to be pursued. If Russia triumphed in the war, the expectations of the race subject to Turkey would be realized, and it would free them from their subjection. Their subjection would not be indispensable to British interests. Those British interests were not, as the House was asked to believe, bound up with the lifeless trunk of the Turkish Empire.

Sir Stafford Northcote said, relative to British interests, as far as interests, which we have in common with others, he saw no reason why we should fight for them alone. It was for the interest of all that there should be freedom of navigation in east and southwestern Europe. There were interests in which other nations had a closer interest than ourselves, and doubtless when the moment arrived those nations would protect them. We had special interest in the Suez canal. It was important it should be kept open and safe. There were other ways to India not so direct, to which the government attached great importance, but the main route is by the canal and Egypt itself. The government desired above all, to preserve this interest. They desired to maintain strict neutrality, to watch over the interests of England, and at the same time be not overhasty. Lord Derby's reply to Prince Gortschakoff contained nothing which was not perfectly respectful. The government is now enabled to keep their hands free to act as may appear best. The real interests of England are the maintenance of peace and prosperity throughout the world. In whatever position they may find themselves, and whatever may be the obligations and circumstances in which they are placed, the government will pursue the policy which they believe good for England and the world, without fear and without reproach.

Gladstone said the issue upon which the House was asked to vote, was contingent upon coercion by all the powers of Europe which did not necessarily mean war against Turkey, and which on former occasions had attained great results. The war might even now be ended within a fortnight, if England would consent to restore European concert. He pointed out what disgrace it would be to England if the liberty of the Christians were secured by an agreement between Turkey and Russia alone.

LONDON, May 15.—The Times says nothing has been so remarkable during the debate in parliament as the declarations in favor of peace from conservatives as well as liberals. The war party itself is in the minority.

The Vote on Gladstone's Resolutions.

LONDON, May 15.—Analysis of last night's division on Gladstone's resolutions, shows the majority consisted of 329 conservatives, and 25 members of the opposition, the latter including the Marquis of Lorne, Lambert, Roebuck, Sir Nathaniel Mayer de Rothschild, and eighteen home rulers. The minority consisted of 12 home rulers, one conservative, Newdegate, and the rest liberals. Home rulers Butts and Sullivan abstained from voting.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Japanese Rebellion.

LONDON, May 15.—An official telegram from Japan states that another army corps has reached Kagoshima. More than one battle has been fought there, and a large part of the town has been burned. The Imperialists are uniformly victorious.

Bank of England.

LONDON, May 15.—Bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £20,000.

Irish Elections.

DUBLIN, May 15.—It is thought Gray, home ruler, has been elected to Parliament from Tipperary, Ireland, in place of O'Callahan, deceased, defeating Casey, an ex-Fenian prisoner, by a large majority. In Tipperary, the mob jeered Gray, and they became so menacing that the police fixed bayonets, and the riot act was read, but the raid dispersed the crowd.

The Basque Conscription.

LONDON, May 15.—The levy of conscripts will be a critical moment in the Basque provinces of Spain. Don Carlos has addressed a letter to Marquis Nalda Espinales, and says those who think the Fueros impair the national monarchical unity of Spain are mistaken. As guardian of the rights of all Spain, I protest against fresh attacks on the revolution of venerable institutions. The Basque people know that the legitimate monarchy has always been their rampart.

Alsatian Garrisons Reinforced.

PARIS, May 15.—Newspapers announce that the German Emperor has signed a decree reinforcing the garrisons in Alsace and Lorraine to 50,000 men.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Pay of the Army.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Secretary of War received from DeClark, Morgan & Co., of New York, a proposition to furnish sufficient means at 5 per cent. interest per annum to pay the army from the 1st of July until the army appropriation bill is passed, but the Secretary declined the offer on the ground that he cannot enter into such contract without a violation of the law. He however favors a plan to so advance pay to officers of the army, but desires it understood that the War Department can have nothing to do with the transaction which must be a purely private matter between officers and the firm. He expresses a willingness to do all in his power to aid such an arrangement, provided he can do so without violating the law, and has referred the question to the Attorney General as to what extent he can take part in the transaction.

Indian Supplies.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Assistant Secretary Bell, who has returned from opening the bids for Indian supplies, reports prices for flour, etc., higher, but the average for furnishing Indian supplies is lower than last year, particularly calico prints and hardware. Proposals for transportation are increased.

The Chicago Whisky Cases.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Secretary Sherman has written a letter refusing to grant the remission asked in the Chicago whisky cases, and giving instructions that parties defendant be not allowed to put their property beyond the reach of legal process.

Blaine's Apprehensions.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The Inter Ocean's Washington special says: Blaine remarked to a friend to-day that what he had heard in the last few days confirmed his worst apprehensions regarding the ultimate effect of the Southern policy, and he has seen no occasion to change his position taken in the Senate in March. He is not here for political purposes.

The Mormon Uprising.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The World's Washington special says neither Gen. Sherman nor the War Department has any advices of any steps being taken by the Mormons for uprising. If reports to that effect are true, there is no doubt the United States officers stationed in Utah would have reported upon them ere this. The Department of Justice is not aware of any hindrance to the execution of the laws in that Territory, and continued prosecution of the alleged participants in the Mountain Meadows massacre. Nor has it entered into any investigation of the personal quarrel in which District Attorney Howard is involved. There is no deficiency in the appropriation for contingent expenses of the United States civil offices in Utah, while the act of March 3d, 1877, provides for an available appropriation of $20,000 for summoning jurors, witnesses, transporting prisoners, etc., from the 1st of July next, to be paid under the direction and order of the Department of Justice upon accounts duly verified and certified. The plea, therefore, that the last Congress has obstructed justice here by a failure to make appropriations is groundless,—quite as groundless, probably, as other portions of the story of the uprising of the Mormons and the failure here to give the U. S. District Attorney proper support.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Herald's Salt Lake special says: Arming and drilling of Mormons continues throughout Utah. Gentiles, and especially those in the northern and southern settlements, are alarmed. A few U. S. troops are in Utah. Four ten companies in Cabit Camp Douglas, and a fragment of a regiment occupies Camp Cameron, near Beaver. The ghost of a company haunts Fort Hall, in Idaho. Gov. Emery has written a letter to the Secretary of War, requesting that Camp Douglass be provided with five companies of infantry and two of cavalry; that Camp Cameron shall have two full companies of infantry; that one infantry company be quartered at St. George; that another be sent to Logan, and the company at Fort Hall be re aimed.

To Army Contractors.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Secretary of war has notified disbursing officers that there will be no funds available for the purchase of supplies for the army after the 1st of July until Congress acts upon the appropriation bill, and all advertisements for contracts as well as contracts themselves, will state that payment depends upon a future appropriation.

Government Financial Policy.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Sun's Washington special says: Evarts has already, in private conversation, expressed himself in favor of these four steps in the commercial policy of the administration: 1st, restoration of the silver dollar; 2d, admission of foreign bottoms to American register; 3d, remission of all duties on English machinery imported for Southern cotton manufacture 4th, revision of tariff specific for ad valorem duties. He avows himself in favor of a bimetalic standard.

Our Consular System.

The Tribune's Washington special says: Evarts, in relation to the consular service reform will insist upon the three following points:

1st. It will be his aim to fill all important commercial consulates by the appointment of men of commercial experience.

2d. In selecting consuls for Oriental ports where judicial duties have to be performed, none except educated lawyers will be appointed.

3d. One of the essential qualifications required of all consuls will be that they shall be able to speak the language of the country in which they are stationed.

REDUCTION OF THE ARMY.

Orders for the reduction of the army have been received at the headquarters of the Department of the Columbia, as will be seen by the following:

The following dispatch was received from the adjutant general:—By direction of the general of the army, all recruiting to be stop edimmediately, except that non commissioned officers may be reenlisted in their own companies, provided they re enlist at the time of expiration of their enlistment and at the post where their companies are.

When a company is below the standard, herein prescribed, the company commander may re enlist any good soldier of his company whose term expires, provided it is done at the date of discharge from previous enlistment, on expiration of his term, at a station of the company.

The following is the standard fixed for artillery and infantry:

Sixty five enlisted men for each light battery; thirty eight enlisted men for each battery of artillery, except those at the artillery school, which shall each number forty eight, and five for each regimental non commissioned staff; total of a regiment of artillery, four hundred and ninety-eight. Seventy-seven enlisted men for each company of infantry, and five men for each regimental non commissioned staff; total of a regiment of infantry, three hundred and seventy-six.

Cavalry not affected, except no enlistments to be made, but only re enlistments, as above indicated.

Company commanders will forward, through regimental headquarters, to department headquarters, recommendations for discharge, at time to have them take effect by or before June 15, 1877, in such numbers as will by that time reduce their companies to the standard herein fixed.

The recommendations will embrace the following classes:

First—Soldiers whose term of enlistment will expire within four months from July 1, 1877, unless they agree to re-enlist in their companies at the date of expiration of service; all such men to be absolutely discharged, so as to get pay on their final statements.

Second—Soldiers known to be minors and to have been improperly enlisted.

Third—Such soldiers as would forfeit retained pay under general orders No 51 of 1872.

Fourth—Soldiers who desire their discharge, which, in the opinion of their company commander, may be granted without detriment to the service.

Department commanders will give orders for discharge, upon these recommendations. This authority, however, is limited to the present occasion.

KEELTON,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Company commanders will forward to the Assistant Adjutant General, as no delay, the names of enlisted men to be discharged under class first whose terms expire within four months of July 1, 1877, and who do not agree to re enlist, and also, where the enlisted strength is in excess of the standard herein fixed, the names of those men recommended for discharge under classes second, third and fourth classified as are above indicated.

Commanders of artillery companies will send duplicate lists of names to the department headquarters direct.

By command of Brigadier General Howard.
H. CLAY WOOD,
Assistant Adjutant General.

TRUSTING TO LUCK.

Disasters of a sort which could be averted by prudence and foresight multiply in the United States as in no other country. It is not that life is held in less estimation here than elsewhere, but that a heedlessness exists which amounts to a national infirmity. Hence the frequent occurrence of such horrors as that on the Lake Shore Railroad, the burning of the Brooklyn Theater and Southern Hotel, and the fall of the Court House at Rockford. Caution has no place in the public mind. Experience is not consulted, or if consulted, no lessons are taken from it. We build in disregard of established principles, as if there had been none before us to teach anything—apparently unconscious that we are taking the most fearful risks, and surprised when the inevitable calamity occurs. The most familiar principles known elsewhere as to strength of materials in a railroad bridge or a great building, are often ignored with us in whole or in part; and if we can persuade ourselves that the risks are but small, we readily take them and trust to luck. In matters of this sort, however, luck has no place. The event is determinable by cool calculation on principles of rigid exactness. Mistake cannot be pleaded. It is simply imprudence and carelessness. Under this view of the subject horrors like these can hardly be enrolled under the name of accidents. For that is not an accident which reasonable caution and intelligence would have prevented. In the United States with only forty-five millions of people we have more disasters of this description than Europe with her three hundred millions. In this the greater conservative tendency of the European mind is manifest. People there appeal continually to the experience of the ages. In architecture they follow only approved methods. No innovator is listened to merely because he has a new thing; in great edifices cheapness of construction is not habitually studied at the expense of safety. Hence great and frail structures are comparatively unknown. It is remembered that there is a limit to the strength of materials; that fire will burn; that gunpowder and nitro-glycerine will explode; that reservoirs if not strongly built will break, and that a rush of waters will drown and destroy. We often see that we are taking chances, but we take them nevertheless. They reduce disasters to a minimum by taking no risks they see. This is the difference. The effect is seen in the fact that with one-sixth the population of Europe we have six times more of these horrors that prudence would, in a great degree, avert.

NARROW GAUGE RAILWAYS.

The success that has attended the construction and operation of narrow gauge railroads in many places calls attention anew to the advantages to be gained by the use of these roads for local traffic where broad gauge roads could not be built and operated without loss. The first narrow gauge road was built in Wales about ten years ago. The gauge was two feet, or one foot less than the narrow gauge now in use in the United States. When the Wales road was put in operation it was examined by capitalists and engineers from nearly all countries in Europe. It was seen at once that the system would be successful. Improved in various ways it has been introduced into many countries, and has been amply tried and proven in America. Canada built the first narrow gauge on this continent, six or seven years ago. But the most considerable road of this sort is the Denver and Rio Grande. In Nevada and Utah there are roads of narrow gauge, and also to a limited extent in California. All work very satisfactorily. In Minnesota this style of road is also to be introduced, and it is believed will be extensively built.

The saving in construction, is from two-fifths to one-half, as compared with the broad gauge. In operating, including wear and tear, there is like advantage. For limited traffic which these roads are built to accommodate, there is a greater proportion of profit to the capital invested than in the broad gauge. This is the really important fact. A narrow gauge can be built and operated with success on a traffic which would not at all suffice for a more costly road. It has been proven that the cost of transferring freight from narrow to broad gauge cars need not exceed a few cents a ton. On the Erie road the average was about seven cents; on European roads it is stated at only three cents, and when the freight is grain in bulk the cost is almost inappreciable.

Seeing that such important benefits are obtained by the construction of the narrow gauge road in other localities, like results might confidently be anticipated from its introduction into Oregon. It is believed that except for trunk lines it would answer all the demands of business, and would play a highly important part in the development of the State. In Benton county there is much agitation of the project of a narrow gauge road from Corvallis to Yaquina Bay. What its actual prospects are we know not, but the managers seem to have confidence they will succeed, and it is greatly to be hoped they may.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

In the Snake river country there is still considerable wheat, which shippers are sending forward pretty rapidly now that prices are strong and the stage of water allows. The rapid settlement of the eastern country and its augmented production of grain will necessitate an increase of steam tonnage on the upper rivers. No doubt the O. S. N. Co. will make preparations for this growth of business which will equal the demand. By far the greatest wheat growing district of the upper country is the Snake river region. But the problem is to get grain out of there at a proper time to meet the market and answer the wants of producers. In Snake river there are serious obstacles to navigation. At low water it is often impossible to run boats with any advantage. But there are no obstructions as far up as Lewiston which cannot be removed. An expenditure of $100,000 on Snake river below Lewiston it is believed would render navigation easy at all times of the year. Settlers going into that country could then rely on shipping their grain at such times as they might desire to put it on the market. Judging from what is said of the extent of the Snake river country and the rapidity of settlement there, it may well be concluded that no more important river improvement could be pressed on the attention of Congress. Though the country spoken of is mainly in Washington Territory, yet the advantages of its development will largely accrue to Oregon, and especially to Portland. The Columbia river will always be the natural channel of this important trade. Improve the river at all points possible, and it will be the channel for freight even against a railroad; or at all events it will afford competition and secure fair rates. Locks at both the principal points of interruption may be secured after a while, but the full achievement of this result is necessarily a good deal in the future. Improvement of the rivers wherever practicable at reasonable cost, is an important thing to be obtained as soon as it can be done. Much has been accomplished already, and more may be. The next Congress in all probability will not be so parsimonious in this particular as the last one.

A contemporary is visited almost daily by very disquieting visions. It discovers a tendency to convert our system of republican government into an "empire," and makes itself exceedingly unhappy by its own gloomy vaticinations. Spooks of "empire" are seen on every hand. Poor Tam O'Shanter was not more terrified by the wicked sprites that pursued his flight on old gray Meg. This unfortunate editor wrestles with "empire" in much the same way that poor Mr. Dick labored with his memorial. But no general alarm on the subject of "empire" is noticeable; the public pulse is reasonably calm, and fear of a central despotism has never been a prevailing hobby in this quarter of the republic. In some of the States—Georgia for instance—a popular craze on this subject produced rebellion. Under a delusion that national disintegration was the only method of preserving popular liberty, and a total inability to comprehend the just balance between extremes, which the true national idea enforces, there was an attempt to destroy national unity; and when this endeavor was opposed, our cars were assailed with a concerted recital of the pretended dangers of "empire," feeble echoes of which still linger among us. The government of the United States is not that of an empire, but it is a government strong enough to enforce its authority to the remotest part of its territory, and even in the great State of Georgia, an intimation of which last fact was conveyed by Sherman's March to the Sea, an event perhaps still remembered.

When the war opened, the strength of the Russian army on the frontier of Asiatic Turkey was 130,000 men. This doubtless has since been augmented. The Turks are not able to confront this army with an equal force, but have great advantage in their fortified positions. These the Russians may not be able to carry except by strategy similar to that by which the Germans turned the French fortresses in 1870, beat the opposing armies in the field, and then captured the fortified posts simply by cutting them off from all hope of relief. To do work like this the Russians must now have very large armies, outnumbering their enemies two or three to one. Direct assault on fortified positions is liable to bloody repulse like that at Batoum. The work attempted by Burnside's army at Fredricksburg is a reminder to us of the nature of the job which the Russians take in hand when they try these assaults. But the Russian soldier is not surpassed for steady courage by any soldier in the world. He may witness the sacrifice of every regiment that approaches a battery, and yet in obedience to orders press on, without flinching, to the same fate. In all his battles, Napoleon never found men who stood fast like the Russians at Eylau and Borodino, save only the English at Waterloo.

It is asserted by the Victoria Standard, that in British Columbia, east of the Cascades there is a great country fit for wheat growing. Flour imported into the province last year cost one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Much of it was from Oregon. The Standard urges the people of the province to go to raising wheat, and expresses a belief that the freight question can be solved since carriers might afford to bring down wheat at lower rates than they charge for the upward transportation of goods. But this is a very doubtful proposition. Transportation through the Cascade range by the British Columbia route is a very different thing from that by the Columbia river through the same range.

Of course wine is still served at all public dinners at the White House. The pretence to the contrary was cant, and a little cheap clap-trap. Under the circumstances nobody will blame ex-President Grant for resenting a reflection upon himself. Good wine needs no bush, says highest authority; but under a custom world wide a state dinner needs wine, and Mrs. Hayes isn't able to banish it.

No "ELOPEMENT."—It has been whi[spered] about privately for some days and at l[ast] got into the papers that the persons [who] have eloped from Salem recently were [Mrs.] Crump and Mrs. M. Ferguson. The sto[ry] that Mrs. Ferguson had written to Cru[mp] some to her and he had taken [the] of his wife and children to [Salem] in Portland, whence the pair had [gone] San Francisco or Puget Sound. This st[ory] all moonshine, and does great injust[ice] Mrs. Ferguson who lives in this city [and] lived here for two years. She hasn't [seen] Crump at all and never thought of [any] thing as "elopement." Last evening [she] called at our office, naturally much dist[urbed] that such a report had been put in circul[ation] She saw the reported elopment in the [Bee] two or three days ago, but not dreaming she was one of the persons referred to, [paid] little attention to it till a neighbor last [night] ing told her that her name had been gi[ven] a paper and that many were saying she [had] the firm. Ferguson meant. She believes if Crump told his family when he le[ft] story that is reported he did it to fram[e] excuse for departure, or with some simil[ar] sign. The family connections of Mrs. F[erguson] are in Marion county and are highly respected. Newspapers that have publish[ed] report concerning her ought to give the [in]stance of this explanation.

WHAT MAKES HIM "SPIKE A MULE."—[The] laam was doubtless somewhat startled [when] the animal which he rode propounded [the] question to him in plain human lang[uage] but we apprehend that neither the voi[ce] Balaam's ass or that of any of the dea[f] ants of that notable beast ever created [such] astonishment then was exhibited yest[erday] by a young man who recently came to [the] land from Albany, New York. The afo[re] young man was crossing First street [at] Stark, and passed just in front of one [of] street cars drawn by a veritable descend[ant] the only four-legged animal that ever [pos]cised the power of human speech. [As] our hero was in front of the mule, the [car] set up one of his longest and loudest t[ones] The young man, not thinking of mules [or] knowing that the cars were drawn exc[lu]sively by horses, thought the trumpet of Gabri[el] some other equally important warning [was] being given, cleared half the street at a b[ound] and halted not till he was safe at the rea[r] of a clothing store, where he trembling[ly] quired, "What on earth is the matter?" [The] laugh which the incident provoked fro[m] bystanders was only less loud than the m[ule] bray, and the jokes cracked by the y[oung] man's companions is what makes him "[spike] a mule."

SCULL BOAT RACE.—Last evening artic[les] agreement were signed by George Wilson [and] Robt. Austin, to row a single scull race o[f] miles for $100 aside; $20 being put up by [each] party as a forfeit, the balance to be plac[ed] the hands of the stakeholder on the eve[ning] of the 28th. The race will take place on T[hurs]day, 29th inst., between 7 and 8 P. M. [The] course is fixed between the foot of Pine st[reet] one mile up the river, turn and retu[rn] place of starting. The judges are Ha[rry] Lyde and Harry Baker, who will appo[int] referee on the day previous to the race [if] close contest is promised, and other races [will] be looked for after this is settled.

AMUSEMENTS.

IL TROVATORE.—Flotow's romantic opera, "Martha," was repeated last evening at New Market theater in a very satisfactory manner. The opera was never better sung or acted in this city, which is most assuredly bestowing a high but richly merited compliment on the company. Miss Winston's rendition of that gem of all songs, "The Last Rose of Summer," was very charming and won hearty and deserved plaudits. The other members of the company were in splendid voice, and the opera could not fail to impart a sense of completeness and satisfaction.

This evening the grand bill of the operatic season will be offered—Verdi's "Il Trovatore." This opera will be rendered in English, which cannot fail to be a rare musical treat to all who have been accustomed to hear it in the Italian language. The opera has been carefully and thoroughly rehearsed and its presentation will not fall short of the public anticipation. It will be presented with due and strict regard to scenic effects and correct costume. The following is the cast: Azucena, Miss Jennie Winston; Leonora, Miss Kita Lefevre; Inez, Miss Rose Chapelle; Manrico, W. H. Tilla; Count Di Luna, Edward Farley; Ferrando, Arthur L. Bell.

To-morrow evening "Giroflé Girofla" will be repeated for the last time. Saturday afternoon, at matinee, the "Bohemian Girl" "Martana" and the "Rose of Auvergne" will conclude the operatic season Saturday.

An inspection of the clothing stock of J. Kohn will repay those who wish to purchase anything in the clothing line. He keeps nothing but the best, and also sells at prices within the reach of all.

To the Grand Lodge, in Session: Your special committee on that part of the report of the M. W. G. M. relating to the death P. G. Cosper, do report:

That the skeleton foot prints of death has indeed marked the floor of this Grand Lodge. His lodge mourns the loss of a patient, earnest and sincere worker and wise counsellor, a steadfast supporter of all reform measures tending to increase the usefulness of the Order. In view of his many excellent qualities, his invariable record as an upright citizen, a faithful public officer and his devotion to the interests of the Order. CARD OF THANKS.

Having now for the first time sufficient leisure to collect our thoughts and count our favors, we desire to express our most sincere thanks to many friends in Portland, some of whose gifts have been made so cautiously that we can only surmise their names, for their substantial expressions of favor and kind remembrance.

To the thoughtful ladies of the society we are indebted for many articles of worth, prized all the more from the sanctifying touch of love which has wrought them.

Others, uncertain of our greatest needs, have sent us money with which to purchase souvenirs of love.

To the Chinese brethren we are much indebted for a beautiful silver set for each of our little ones, and to all for the testimonies of appreciated labor bestowed in weakness and often with faltering hand. The warm and genial welcome which we first received and the ever increasing interest manifested in our welfare to the last will ever be remembered by us as connected with one of the pleasantest periods of our pastoral work, and we fondly hope that in the "Sweet By and By" Heaven will be made far sweeter to us by the newfound friends we learned to love in that pleasant far western home.

We would also kindly mention the many acts of kindness received from those of our immediate circle, and favors bestowed by business men who have materially aided us in our labors.

May the kind Father of all spirits bestow his richest blessings upon all and supplement our humble work by his rich favor upon those who have helped us on our way.

THE OTHER SIDE.

YAKIMA, W. T., May 6, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your paper of the 21st ult., I noticed the following piece of bogus information in relation to the Yakima Indian Reservation and the wonderful feats of husbandry performed thereon. [We omit the article referred to, as it tenor will be made clear by what follows in the present letter.—ED. OREGONIAN.]

Now, the public are called upon to believe that there are 3,650 Indians on the Simcoe reservation engaged in agricultural pursuits, when the truth is there is not one-fourth of that number of Indians on the reservation, and if Kamiakin's band of Yakimas, Moses' band of Spokanes, and a large number of Indians in Kittitas valley—all of whom refuse to acknowledge allegiance to the agent at Simcoe—were thrown into the scale they would not swell the number to the above figures. Not one tenth of the Indians on the reserve are engaged in farming.

The number of houses outside of the government buildings at the fort, built with government funds, for the accommodation of these 3,650 farmers (?) does not exceed 50; and of these a large per cent. are occupied by the Indians' saddles, hair ropes, shoe-leather (buckskins), dried salmon, bread, roots, berries, camas, etc., etc.; and the civilized redman complacently occupies his native wigwam in the vicinity of his government trap house.

After rambling over the whole face of this country from the Dalles to Puget Sound in the summer and fall months, in search of the articles above mentioned, these wandering farmers return and pleasantly while away the long winter evenings in their lovely wigwams—within the hallowed limits of the reservation, by engaging in their old time-honored "pum-pum" dance.

It is stated that "last year they raised 40,000 bushels of wheat, and other products in proportion." Strange it seems, that there can be found in the limits of Yakima county, a person so utterly regardless of truth as to publish through the columns of the leading journal of Oregon such a flagrant falsehood.

Strange, that item after item of this nature in reference to this same subject is allowed to run its journalistic course unnoticed and unanswered. Passing strange that the agent of the Yakima Indian reservation, knowingly, permits such audacious mistakes to be flaunted in the public face without making an effort to correct them.

I make this statement and challenge investigation: That the Indians on the Yakima Reservation have not raised that amount of wheat in the last 10 years.

There are at present between six and eight hundred square miles of excellent farming land on this reservation, the face of which has never been scarred by a plow, and never will be as long as it is held by this lazy, rambling worthless race.

BOSTON.

FISH CULTURE.

In conversation with the proprietor of one of the most extensive canneries on the lower Columbia we learn that the proposed scheme for the propagation of fish has become a certainty, the necessary funds for that purpose having been subscribed. A joint stock company has been organized with a capital of $30,000, over one-half of which has already been taken by business men interested in the matter. A telegram was sent on Monday last to Professor Beard, United States fish commissioner, at Washington, D. C., informing him that the necessary amount of funds had been pledged, and instructing him to at once send on an officer to superintend the matter. It is an acknowledged fact that the run of salmon this year is considerably lighter than common, while the number of nets in use is larger than ever before. It is a safe estimate to place the number of nets in use at the present time at 1,000, averaging from 1,200 to 1,800 feet in length. The catch thus far has been much lighter than that of any previous year, and the fact is self-evident that unless something is done to promote the propagation of salmon our fishing interests will be very materially injured and may eventually result in clearing the river of what is now and what may be made a constant source of income to the State at large. We regret to learn that the proprietors of some of the best paying canneries have refused to aid in this work, and their quota of the amount has been subscribed by parties in this city whose interests in the matter are only indirect but who are willing to go down into their pockets rather than see the State lose so natural and prolific a resource. The plan is to introduce spawn by artificial means, hatch the same out and care for the young fish until they are strong enough to take care of themselves, when they will be turned loose in the Columbia and its tributaries. It is a scheme that should be carefully fostered and liberally sustained as we earnestly hope it will be.—Evening Telegram.

THE TERRITORIES.

Walla Walla exports heavy lots of bacon to Idaho.

Rev. Davis, an Episcopal clergyman, just arrived at Puget Sound, has accepted a call at Port Townsend.

The Port Discovery mill starts up nights some two weeks since, and is now the only mill on the Sound doing night work, and is turning out 125,000 feet of lumber daily.

The purchase of horses at Walla Walla, desired for cavalry service, is much impeded for want of funds. But the officers will give Uncle Sam's note, and the old man is sure pay.

The Seattle Dispatch of May 13th, says: We learn that G. A. Meigs, the governor of Port Madison, as many of his friends call him, is building a great sawmill near the mouth of Hardy creek, Mendocino county, Cal., where there is an abundance of good redwood timber.

The Walla Walla Statesman says the grand jury at that place has refused to indict an Indian who killed another, and calls the proceeding "very proper," because "the faster the Indians kill off one another the better for the country." Not much of a streak of "humanitarianism" there.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.

An article in the Christian Union, sets these things forth:

The "good old times" when a wife was to be a mere echo, and faintly repeat her husband's latest opinions, have gone. If that is your notion of a wife, you ought to have lived in Corinth in the first century; or you ought to live in India now. And even in India you would have to keep out of the way of troublesome Miss Britain. Your wife is entitled to her own individuality, to her own opinions. They ought to clash sometimes with yours; and you both ought to know how to strike fire in conversation and have no explosion. Because you are a Democrat is no reason why she should not be a Republican; because you are a Congregationalist is no reason why she should not be an Episcopalian. Shame on the notion that a wife is only a cipher to stand on the right side of her husband so as to make a unit into 10. A dumb wife is a disgrace to her husband. An independent wife is his glory. If she never differs from you, it is because she is a serf and you are a despot. She ought to be your best adviser. She ought to be your most confidential counselor. The self-conceit of men amounts to a genius. There are many husbands that would as soon think of taking advice from their wives as from their children. But it is only the fool who is too wise to seek counsel.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 17, 1877.

Gold in New York, 100¾.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying 93¾; selling, 94.

Silver Coin—4@5 per cent. discount.

The recent action of the Legislatures of Ohio and Indiana in making silver coin a legal tender for all debts, will have a tendency to draw a great portion of this kind of currency from other sections of the Union and may relieve the Pacific coast of some of its surplus. Though not an advocate of the adoption of similar measures in our own State, we are very willing the self-sacrificing law makers of the Hoosier and Buckeye States of for themselves and their constituents on this altar. California and Oregon have had more than their share of this cumbersome currency, and anything on the part of the States first alluded to, to equalize the supply will be duly appreciated here. That Ohio and Indiana will find the action of Legislatures a piece of financial wisdom is to be gravely doubted. That the heavy discount on silver ruling here for several months past has been mainly brought about by the manipulations of San Francisco money sharps, is almost admitted, but that it would be good policy to place it by force of law on a par with gold would be more disastrous to our prosperity than the inconvenience arising from the present depreciated condition of the coin of this metal.

In no essential feature is our local money market changed from the condition of fair supply, moderate demand and somewhat slow movement noticed so frequently thus far this spring.

Freights.

The San Francisco Commercial News of the 9th inst. says:

We have had a very dull freight market during the past week, which calls for little comment. Wheat freights are practically out of the market, and no quotations can be given. One vessel has been taken up for salmon at £2, and it is probable more tonnage will be required either from this port or Oregon for this business. Outside business remains stagnant. The disengagements hardly cease very rapidly, but the engagements hardly keep pace with the arrivals. At the close we have 925 tons in port under engagement for wheat, 10,881 tons miscellaneous and 31,767 tons disengaged. The only charter for wheat is the following: Br bk Cape Finisterre, 882 tons, wheat and salmon, to Liverpool, £2.

English Crops and Markets.

LONDON, May 15.—The Mark Lane Express says a favorable change occurred in the weather, beginning last week. It is doubtful whether the backward season did any serious harm. With warm weather, which it is reasonable to expect, the fears entertained in some districts will be dissipated. Spring sowing even in late districts is finished. It is stated that in Cambridgeshire the acreage devoted to wheat is small. In Scotland the weather has been dry but very cold. Pastures are almost in a hopelessly backward state, and a warm rain is much needed to favor the growth of grass. The excitement has in a great measure subsided. Business at the country markets has been quiet, the principal noticeable feature being the tenacity with which farmers held wheat. This, coupled with unusually light offerings both at provincial exchanges and in Mark Lane, leads to the conviction that the quantity of home-grown wheat in farmers' hands is so small that they are determined to hold out for extreme prices. Since the blockade of the Black Sea no political event has occurred directly affecting the interests of the grain trade. This absence of fresh extraneous support, with a change to more seasonable weather accounts for the decline of from one to two shillings, which has taken place for the second time on values of wheat, from the recent highest point. It may therefore be considered a fair inference that until supplies show a marked increase the future course of prices will be to a large extent dependent upon political influences. The only source whence it is probable we shall receive increased imports is Russia. Present appearances do not favor the supposition that the exigencies of war will interfere with shipments from St. Petersburg, where accumulated stocks of wheat and oats are undoubtedly large. Still the situation is critical enough to warrant firmness on the part of holders, now that the granary stocks in London are certainly at a very low ebb. Sales of English wheat last week were 52,775 quarters at 40s 6d, against 45,921 at 40s 2d the previous year.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS OF
DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill,

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Ports on the Sound to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, Tremont House, Seattle. For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish. JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swol en on each side. I was told by physicians that I was a polypus; that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a most rigid examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer; also the diseased portion of bone and pancaceous gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To one now labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD,
Employed at Colman's Saw Mill.

[I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.]
